Salvation Army Advisory Board To Be Organized

A meeting of citizens who have an interest in the work the Salvation Army is doing in Connellsville and vicinity will be held in the council chamber this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of forming an advisory board. The function of this organization, as stated in the call for the meeting, is to give the local corps of the Salvation Army the sound and mature advice of a few of our leading citizens in order that the corps may carry on its work of spiritual and temporal relief in this section of Fayette county in a bigger and better way.

"Advisory boards," says the call, "are being formed in every county of the state and will have to do with the local county Salvation Army corps. Federal Judge Joseph Buffington is head of the state advisory board in Pennsylvania. To date, these boards have been formed in nearly every county in this state and have proven most valuable in aiding the Salvation Army workers in their untiring efforts to make the world a better place to live in."

It is believed that through assistance of the advisory board a great work can be done in this section of the county among the worthy poor and the great number of people who know no church.

Legislative Session Ending Today First Since 1909 to Complete Work in April

HARRISBURG, April 28.—The 124th session of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, which closes its sittings today, is the first since 1909 to finish business in April, recent meetings having run into May and in the cases of the sessions of 1917 and 1919 until the close of June. The session began on January 4 and has been marked by presentation of hundreds of bills—almost as many as the session—and by probably as many hearings, as ever known in any session. While the state administration submitted many important measures in its program.

While controversies over legislation have been frequent, the most remarkable episode known in legislative history of a generation and an event unprecedented occurred on Tuesday when the House dissolved over the manner in which bills were being kept in committee and with the adjournment of the House with important measures at a critical stage, it was adjourned by Speaker Robert S. Spangler on a call for the orders of the day, but a majority of the members organized in early morning hours with Captain Samuel A. Whitaker as speaker pro tem and at a second session in the middle of the morning, deposed of Mr. Spangler, who had been the unknown choice of the House for reelection in January, and chose Captain Whitaker, who has

Simultaneous Blasts Open Twin Tunnels Connecting Springdale Plant, West Penn, With Fuel Bed

President Lynn Pulls Clutch, Dynamite 65 Feet Under River Does Rest.

As a final stroke connecting up the $5,000,000 plant of the West Penn Power company on the west side of the Allegheny river at Springdale with its vast fuel supply on the east side of the river, twin tunnels yesterday were opened by means of blasts set off simultaneously by A. M. Lynn, president of the West Penn Power company.

In the presence of officials of the West Penn Power company, the Foundation company, contractor in charge of the work, and prominent civil and mining engineers, gathered about a platform at the hoisting shaft on the Springdale side of the river. Mr. Lynn pulled a clutch, electrically connected with charges in the uncompleted portions of the tunnels, 65 feet below the river bed.

The occasion was unique in that it was the first time that simultaneous blasts were employed to open up two parallel tunnels. It also marks the first time that a central power station has been connected up with its fuel supply in this manner.

Brief remarks by President Lynn, A. V. Bennett, assistant to Mr. Lynn and G. B. Monaghan, superintendent in charge of the work, preceded the touching of the blasts.

"We are about to blast away the first foot of rock remaining which separates this large central station from its source of fuel supply," Mr. Lynn said. "There are few instances in the world where the mine dippers in the beginning of one of the largest power houses of the world, planned for 30,000 kilowatts or 100,000 horsepower, across this great river, the Allegheny, its 4,000 acres of coal, seven feet thick, which field of 40,000,000 tons of coal, for many years after all who are here today have passed away, will furnish the fuel supply for this station."

The detonation as the dynamite charges let off in response to Mr. Lynn's touch was heard plainly by the company of men.

The tunnels, 50 feet apart, each 10 feet, 6 inches wide and 7 feet high, were driven partly in the coal vein and partly through fire clay. Over 4,000 feet long, they extend 1,250 feet under the river.

LEGISLATURE PREPARES FOR FINAL ACTION

After All-Night Sessions Solons Quit at Dawn to Meet Again at 10.

HILARITY MARKS WINDUP

Members of Lower Body Form Procession and With National and State Flags in Lead. Senate Movie Censor Bill Adopted. By Associated Press. HARRISBURG, April 28.—Both branches of the Legislature adjourned at dawn today until 10 o'clock when the final session of the General Assembly of 1921 began. The houses were in almost continuous session from 9 o'clock last night, and the early hours of today were marked by the usual scenes of hilarity. In the House papers were thrown about by members and in the Senate songs were sung and mock sessions held. During early hour waits for reports from committees, members of the House formed a procession and, preceded by the national and state flags, serenaded the Senate.

It is expected the Legislature will adjourn early this afternoon.

The McConnell Senate bill increasing the salaries of the board of moving picture censors was passed by the House.

The House convened in its final session this forenoon, the gavel of the speaker calling the members to order at 10:20 o'clock. The body got down to business immediately passing in quick time the Burns Senate bill providing for separate accommodations for women jurors at court houses.

The House defeated the Senate bill increasing the salary of the lieutenant governor from $5,000 to $10,000 a year.

The House concurred in the Senate amendments to the Women's prohibition enforcement bill at its session this forenoon. The action came after the sponsor of the bill had reported to the House the conference committee was unable to come to an agreement on the differences between the two branches. Friends of the administration fearing the session would end with no enforcement bill enacted rallied their forces to confer in the Senate amendment. The vote was 158 yeas to 14 nays.

The Jordan bill creating a commission to select a site for a state fair was passed in the Senate 31 to 19. Objections by Senator Long, Franklin, prevented consideration by the Senate of a resolution calling upon President Harding to use his good offices for recognition of the Irish republic and freedom of the Irish race.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power are a result of doing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to do them harm willfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Charles H. Fletcher.

PESKY BED BUGS
Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs a day. These eggs hatch in five days and the young bedbugs are ready to feed in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year? To rid the pesky bedbug, you can readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live bugs. P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading Hospitals, Hotels and Railroad Companies that the only chemical that is non-poisonous way to stop future generations of bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants is to use the new discovery, "Pesky Devil".
Quietly "P. D. Q." A few pads of P. D. Q. make a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants and so they can be used in any place. Impossible for them to see when you are in a room if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year? NEWSY NOTES TELL WHAT'S HAPPENING IN THE MILL TOWN

Chief of Police Has Theory That Alleged Deserter Shot Himself.

MOVEMENTS WHILE HERE TRACED

That James Miller, said to be from Camp Knox, took revolver of friend and then threw it away, belief; children's week parade.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTSVILLE, April 28.—Chief of Police Frank McCudden, who on Monday took into custody James Miller, an artilleryman who had been shot through the left hand, says he is convinced that Miller shot himself. The officer says he has traced Miller's movements over the week-end and found that he was in Scottsville on Saturday, met a Lutman boy, son of Peter Lutman of this place, and that young Lutman took him home to spend Saturday night. On Sunday evening after Miller left, it was discovered a revolver belonging to Lutman was missing. The chief expresses the belief that Miller tried out the revolver and that there was something the matter with the trigger and he shot himself and then threw the gun away. He had no gun on his person at the time McCudden got him. Miller is still in the Memorial hospital at Mount Pleasant and nothing has been heard from Camp Knox, from which place he was absent for four days.

Children's Week Ends Sunday.
The plans for the parade to be held Sunday, marking the close of Scottsville's second annual Children's Week, are about completed. The parade will form at the Methodist Episcopal church at 2:30 o'clock and will proceed to the United Brethren church. Each Sunday school group will be divided into three sections, first the beginners, second the primary and third the juniors. It is urged that there be plenty of teachers with the children in the line of the parade.

The Chief Conservator league is struggling for the same place in the child's life that the churches are and will also take part in the parade. At the United Brethren church a song festival will be held, with Mrs. Dou Baker in charge of the beginners, Mrs. J. E. Steelsmith in charge of the primary department and Prof. Fuller in charge of the juniors.

After the song festival there will be a story telling hour, for the beginners in the basement of the United Brethren church, with Miss Ruth Miller as the story teller; for the primary department at the Reformed church, with Miss Eva Rittenhouse as the story teller, and the juniors in the First Presbyterian church, with Miss Carrie Frye as the story teller.

At the United Brethren church a mass meeting will be held for the older folks, with Ralph Sherrick as soloist, and a short address by Chester B. Murray. The United Brethren mass meeting will only be a half-hour gathering so that the parents can get out and meet the little ones.

The merchants have entered into the spirit of the week and have wonderful displays for the children and of interest to parents.

Very few of the churches will have their annual cradle roll picnics at this time, because of the weather but will hold them later.

Bands of fringe give a touch of unusualness to this suit of olive gray tweed. The deep cut, rounded neckline with the long collar is a new feature which is becoming to every one. Coal in Costa Rica To Be Developed By West Virginia Men

A recently prospected tract of 15,000 to 20,000 acres of what is believed to be a high-grade coal deposit in Costa Rica, Central America, is to be developed by Fairmont and New York City men.

Upon a recent visit to the field by C. E. Hutchinson, vice president of the Hutchinson Coal company of Fairmont, four tons of the coal was mined and taken down the steep mountain inclines in ox carts to the Pacific railroad of Costa Rica, where it was successfully used to move trains to the great satisfaction of Don Julio Acosta, the president of the republic, and the cabinet. The land is owned by the government and other interests, but A. F. Sinclair, Fairmont, W. Va., and Robert Gordon, New York, who compose an engineering firm that prospect it, together with C. E. Hutchinson, have secured a long lease on the entire tract of coal.

The coal is said to be somewhat similar to Pocahontas coal, being low in sulphur and volatile, but the ash fuses higher than Pocahontas. The seam is reported to range from five to six feet in thickness. The Pacific railroad has been paying $18 a ton for coal imported from the United States. By the new arrangement coal can be furnished to the road at a lower price and it will afford the lessee a nice profit. It will be a pick mining development and will no doubt be waged on a broader scope later. At first from 200 to 300 tons a day will be produced. The Pacific railroad is the government line in Costa Rica, and the coal mine is located about eight miles from San Jose, the capital.

SHE WASN'T SICK, BUT HER CHILDREN WERE

Six Months of Care and Worry Were Too Much for Her.

GOT THIN, NERVOUS, TIRED

Her Brother-in-Law, a Doctor, Said
She Was Anemic and Advised Pepto-Mangan.

Here is a story of a strong, vigorous mother who never knew what ill health was, but three years ago her two little boys got into the habit of being sick.

Six months of care and worry were too much for her and brought to light the fact that, with all her apparent vigor, she really was anemic. She lost flesh, couldn't sleep well and got nervous.

Then the doctor (her brother-in-law) prescribed Pepto-Mangan. She said: "Fred explained a lot about the special sort of iron-content in Pepto-Mangan, and a lot of other things that I don't understand, but what I do understand is that a bottle of Pepto-Mangan is always going to be in my medicine closet as long as I live. Whatever it contains, I don't know or care, but I do know that it builds me up when I get run-down, and that's enough for me."

Guide's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red-blood builder in all conditions of lowered vitality; not due to serious disease of the vital organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak, and listless. Physicians recommend Guide's Pepto-Mangan. When you order, be sure the word "Guide's" is on the package. Without "Guide's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. Furnished in both liquid and tablet form. For sale by all druggists.—Adv.

KIDNEYS AILING?

Watch the Symptoms

Don't take any chances with your kidneys. If you have the faintest suspicion that your kidneys are weak or your bladder is irritated, the wisest thing you can do is to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marshmallow at once. The faintest signs indicate that the kidneys are ailing and need attention. Dry skin for instance and little specks coming before the eyes. Sometimes the feet feel heavy, as if your shoes were full of lead. Often the joints ache or you have quick, darting pains shooting through the back or side. Then again that frequent desire to empty the bladder, cold, clammy feet and just a little puffiness under the eyes. Occasionally the hands or feet are moist. Don't neglect them—you cannot afford to take any chances with your kidneys.

Important—Dr. Samuel G. Carey, the well known kidney and bladder specialist of Elmira, N. Y., who retired recently, declares that this great preservative, No. 77, "Marshmallow" had helped thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. It is a potent medicine and is highly sold through drug stores to accumulate his patients. Hereafter you can always get the effective prescription at Connellsville Drug Co., 117 N. Second, and all reliable pharmacists the country over. Keep in mind the name, Dr. Carey's Marshmallow prescription No. 77. No other medicine can take its place.—Adv.

THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 28, 1921.

THE FULL CREW REPEALER.

The repeal of the Full Crew Law will no doubt be disappointing to many railroad men. The act was passed some years ago at their urgent solicitation that such a measure was necessary in order to compel the railroad companies to equip trains with a larger number of men than was then the practice in order, the railroad men contended, that the greater safety of all members of the crew be insured. Practical operation of the law has shown that it requires the employment of more men than are actually needed to insure train safety, thereby entailing a very heavy and needless expense which adds to the cost of transportation. Further, it has been claimed that when there was a shortage of men compliance with the requirements of the Full Crew Law has prevented the operation of additional trains and to that extent has contributed to the congestions which from time to time have partially paralyzed business of the entire country.

These and other arguments have been advanced by the railroads in opposition to the law to be met by counter arguments by their employees in support of the law. These contentions have impressed the Legislature with the fact that in the absence of any form of regulation the railway managers and the trainmen would have very widely divergent views as to the number of trainmen necessary to handle a train with safety. The former would doubtless insist upon the minimum, while the latter would regard as too few, and the latter would insist upon the maximum which the railroads would regard as in excess of the actual needs.

Realizing, as the Legislature has, that adequate and proper measures must at all times be taken to protect the life and limb of railway employees, and also the right of the public to secure its transportation at the lowest cost consistent with good service, a very large majority favored a radical change in the Full Crew regulations. Under the provisions of the repealer the matter of determining the size of a train crew in order to promote safe operation of trains is left to the Public Service Commission, to which both the railroads and their employees can make appeal.

The rights of both parties are thus safeguarded and the interests of the public, which is very much concerned about the cost of transportation, are protected. The commission can determine the number of men in a train crew at the same time determine when measures to that end are liable to require expenditure out of the pocket of or beyond the actual needs. By thus functioning the Public Service Commission will act as an impartial and disinterested adjuster of questions relating to the manning of trains.

To such an arrangement the general public feels there can be no reasonable objection inasmuch as the interests of all parties concerned are to be given due and proper consideration. If objections should arise there is every reason to believe they can be satisfactorily adjusted without impairing the rights of either the railroads or their employees. The new method of handling the questions relating to size of train crews will, therefore, give recognition to all three groups—employers, employees and the public—which are so vitally affected by efficiency or lack of it in railway transportation.

The new traffic ordinance is lacking in an important particular. It makes no provision for regulating the movements of driverless cars when taking "headers down the billy streets."

The obstructionists may call it a "rump" session, but the Legislature is now making public business move with a jump.

The Germans will have to speed up the adding machine working on the reparations problem if they hope to escape feeling the uncomfortable weight of the French war machine.

Must Prevent Invasion.
Talking about the future, the most prevalent one in America today seems to be the invasion.

A New Record.
A record of 100,000,000 was made when the Daily Courier's circulation was counted.

LEGISLATURE THE FIRST SINCE 1909 ENDING IN APRIL

$14,000,000 additional. The appropriations of 1919 were approved for about $102,000,000.

Among departmental bills passed were the Public Welfare Department which would merge the State Board of Public Charities, Lunacy Commission and Prison Labor Commission. The objection was made to this bill that it would give too much power and the chief of the new department would fix the number and compensation of employees instead of the Legislature doing so by statute. This point also was raised in other departmental measures, including internal affairs.

One of the big ideas on the Sprout legislative program was the bill authorizing submission to the people in September of the question of holding a constitutional convention which was passed after some opposition to the plan for the governor to appoint 25 delegates at large. Each congressional district will elect three.

New congressional, senatorial and legislative appointment bills, the first since 1908, and a new judicial bill, replacing the act of 1901, were passed. Bills were passed to the governor providing fees for filing of nomination petitions. These would affect thousands of state-wide and local candidates.

The administration prohibition amendment code was passed in a bill sponsored by Representative George I. Wonder, Butler. It amends the Brooks high license law and provides control for non-intoxicating alcoholic liquors. The Anti-Saloon league bill, sponsored by W. H. Martin, Allegheny, was defeated and a third conference, presided by Senator P. W. Snyder, failed to reach the Senate.

Efforts to repeal and change the Sunday laws were defeated, the Sunday fishing bill not getting out of committee. Educational bills passed include the Pledge salary schedule for teachers, the lengthening of terms of school, a new system of distribution of aid for districts, tenure of office for teachers and centralization of authority of the state superintendent of public instruction over normal schools, white educational supervisory work, including that of higher education, was vested in a new body to be known as the State Council of Education.

Numerous important laws relative to health and control of disease were enacted, including amendments to the quarantine code of 1919. The Pinchot forestry program was enacted, the department being reorganized, thousands voted for purchase of new reserves and for fire fighting, while cooperation between state and nation in federal purchase of land was provided.

Authority of the State Highway Department was enlarged for the construction directly by state aid and township assistance, and in addition to specific appropriations of automobiles, ferries and other money to highways, the state appropriated more than $12,000,000 for roads, enabling carrying out of the greatest road program in Pennsylvania history.

Three insurance codes, work of a state commission, were passed in the closing hours, while new military laws and changes to the game and fish codes were passed. Hereafter, November will be the small game season and hunters will wear licenses on their backs. A state fishermen's license bill providing a fee of $1.50 and a 10-cent fishing fee was passed, $100,000 of the proceeds to go to the Department of Fisheries.

Several important agricultural bills were passed, including those placing dog licenses directly under the Department of Agriculture, stiffening up penalties for violation of quarantine laws, giving greater control of potato warts, requiring assessors to report on crop storage, and a pure seed law, which defines seeds and weeds and requires statements of germinating quality and origin to be given.

No changes of moment were made to the public service law.

The full crew act of 1911 was repealed with authority for the Public Service Commission to determine the number of men needed to man a train properly.

A bill was passed allowing departmental heads to increase without further authority the salaries of persons receiving less than $1,500 in state service.

Substantial appropriations were made for building armories and for improvement of the Mount Ostrya camp grounds.

License fees for trucks were increased about 100 per cent and new classifications were made.

Bills carrying heavy penalties for bandits and increasing punishments for various crimes were enacted.

The banking law commission was continued; authority for exchange of state bonds of 1920 for those of 1921 was voted, but the bill creating a state depository board failed to get out of Senate committee.

In addition to continuing the capitol office building program appropriations were made for the Delaware river and soldiers' and sailors' memorial bridges.

FOUR IRISHMEN EXECUTED

Four Irishmen were executed for making war against British forces. They were Patrick O'Sullivan, Michael Moore, Patrick Remayne and Thomas Mulcahy.

A Fair Proposition

Every article of food carried in a Union Supply Company meat market has been purchased only after a careful investigation in regard to its quality by competent buyers who specialize in this work. Having met the high quality standards required, price is another matter considered. A very conservative profit is added. In this way we are enabled to offer the utmost in quality at unusually low prices.

Are you as careful and as particular as this in selecting the meats, butter, eggs, cheese, etc., for your table? If quality and price are considered in your purchasing we urge a comparison or a trial of our meat market lines,—after which we will be perfectly willing to abide by your decision.

Phone Landing Place Sought

Burgess S. P. Stevens is in receipt of a communication from headquarters of the Third Corps Area, Fort Howard, Pa., making inquiries concerning a suitable landing place for planes. The proper steps have been taken by Burgess Stevens to see that the desired information is given. A field east of Mount Pleasant was used for emergency landing during the war and it is probable that an emergency landing or even field may be established here.

OUR NAVAL GUNS STOPPED GERMANS SHELLING PARIS

objective was a weapon which would be effective from a military standpoint; which could accomplish definite destruction within the combatant lines of the foe.

The German gun was a freak. It may be questioned whether it has significant value for future warfare. It was interesting as a demonstration of what can be done in hurling projectiles through space; it was terrible as a further evidence of the heartless cruelty of Teutonic militarism; but whether it contributed anything of greater usefulness to the practical science of artillery than Jules Verne's story of the gun which dropped a projectile on the moon is open to debate.
The development of guns and shells for use in the event of possible future wars—which, pray God, the world will be spared—is more likely to follow along the lines on which American experiment and achievement have moved.

Threw 1,400-pound Shells.
The new United States navy guns were being built on plans which would make them the biggest ever placed on railway or other mobile mounts—and far more powerful than any artillery then in use for military purposes on the western front.

Although their range was considerably less than that of the German monster, they were made to fire a shell very much bigger and more destructive. The German gun threw a nine-inch shell, weighing about 300 pounds. The American guns were built to throw a 14-inch shell, weighing 1,400 pounds—and, when they got into action, they did.

The first mount, complete with its huge 14-inch naval gun, rolled out of the shops on April 25, 1918, less than a month from the time of the Good Friday slaughter in the French church. Tested at Sandy Hook, N. J., five days later, it proved a complete success. It hurled its immense projectiles more than 25 miles.

If our guns had been built in Paris
we could have had them at the front in three days. They were made to move by rail, and to be ready for almost immediate action. But they had to get to France first, and the difficulty of fighting a war 3,000 miles away were impressed upon us by this necessity for transporting guns.

No Ship Big Enough
No ship was big enough to carry one of them at one time. Each had to be taken to pieces before loading.

The last of the mounts was completed May 25—a new record for quick construction.

But getting a ship to take them over was no easy task. The first ship assigned was so badly battered up it had to go into dock for repairs; the second ship—the Texel—was sunk by a U-boat near our coast. It was June 28 before the Newport News, heavily laden with material, sailed for France.
The guns were received in France with amazement. There was some fear expressed lest the attempt to transport them to the front by rail might result in their crippling transportation, because of their tremendous weight. But the fear was needless.

News of their coming doubtless reached the Germans.

The proof of that is found in the extraordinary thing that happened next.

Stop Shelling of Paris.

The German maddening of guns had been registering on Paris with fair regularity. By a series of nice calculations and daring observations its position had been located in the forest of St. Gobain, on a plateau north of the Alsas.

South of the Alsas was the forest of Compiègne, and to this place of concealment the American guns were headed. With their 25 mile range they would be able to search out the corner of the German masterpiece.

They were barely under way before the shelling of Paris ceased, and when battery No. 2 reached its position in the forest of Compiègne about August 21 it was greeted with the news that the day before the Germans had happily withdrawn their gun. From that day until the armistice no more shells fell in Paris.

The Germans knew that the giant freak could not stand up under the fire of the 14-inch, 1,400-pound shells which the United States navy guns were prepared to drop in its neighborhood, and displayed that discretion which has been named the better part of valor.

Tribute to American Genius.

The story of the work accomplished by the United States naval batteries in the latter weeks of the war, in the days which were crucial and held victory or defeat in the hour of exasperation, is a story that will bear detailed telling. Following operations with the French and American armies, from Soissons to Verdun, from the Argonne, from the Meuse-Argonne offensive, in shelling Montmedy and Longwy and in cutting the German main artery between Metz and Sedan. They remained in action to the end, their last shot falling into the German lines at almost the very moment when the armistice ended hostilities. Their record was a triumph of American genius and naval efficiency.

(The brilliant story of two naval heroes who saved the ship from destruction will be printed in The Courier tomorrow.)

IRON AND STEEL DOWN TO A HUM-DRUM WITH PRICE ADJUSTMENT

Independent Operations Now on a 40 Per Cent Basis; Increase in Business Rather Small.

Special to The Weekly Courier.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

The iron and steel market has settled down to a hum-drum existence, now that the excitement of their being a variety of prices quoted on steel products has disappeared. The mills are all adhering to the new prices, representing advances by the independents and reductions by the United States Steel Corporation, and no important departures are to be expected.

Buyers show much more disposition to take hold than is displayed at present. From the present outlook interest is unlikely to increase before September or October.

Most of the independent steel producers gather up a very fair amount of steel business as they withdraw their extreme prices, and this gives them a fair operation, probably about 40 per cent, for the present. They are bookings very little business at present, however.

Expectations were that with its downward revision in prices the steel corporation would experience a much larger flow of business, but thus far the increase, though noticeable, is rather small. Thus it is doubtful whether the steel corporation's operating rate, averaging about 40 per cent in the past two or three weeks, will increase materially.

Manufacturers of steel continue to show price reductions from time to time, but the reductions are far from radical. Chain has been marked down to 6.25¢ base. Standard, small and boat spikes, have been put on a single base price, subject to regular extras, as they were before the war, the base price being 3.40¢. Cold finished steel bars, formerly done at various prices down to about 2.90¢, are now uniformly quoted at 3.10¢, or 32¢ a ton spread above the hot rolled bars.

While pig iron prices show a great or degree of liquidation, considering the influence upon cost of the high freight rates, than do steel products,

the pig iron market continues soft,
and there will have to be further liquidation of stocks before any upturn in prices can be expected.

LESS DAMAGE

To Fruit Crop by Frost Than at First Indicated.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Apples apparently suffered less from the freeze and frost which swept through the central portion of the country than was at first indicated. Reports from state agents to the Department of Agriculture show definitely that the fruit, except of the country was not materially affected.

Southern sections of Pennsylvania,
Ohio, Indiana and Illinois and Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas and the Panhandle section of Texas, however reported considerable damage. In Missouri the fruit crop was said to have been "hard hit."

WAR PRICE GAINS

For Cattle and Hogs Have All Been Lone to Stock Raisers.

The Department of Agriculture established by a recent annual investigation that the average price per head all ages, of cattle other than milk cows was $35.92 in 1917; $44.22 in 1919, and $51.41 in 1921. On January 1, last year, the farm price was $4.51 below that of 1917, some months before this country declared war.

Swine on farms declined in the two years 1919 and 1920, 58 per cent; of the gain in 1917 and 1918, and two-thirds of the decline was in 1920.

CHURCH LEAGUE BEING PLANNED FOR THIS YEAR

An endeavor will be made to start a church league in this city. W. F. Underwood, secretary of the Baltimore Orioles, Y. M. C. A., is fostering the movement and has asked a representative of each church in the city to put the matter up to the men of their institution.

Next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock a meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. at which the matter will be finally determined. Each church will be expected to have representatives present.

LEISUREMEN NO. 3 WINS

The Leisuremen No. 3 baseball team defeated the organization at Leisuremen No. 1 on the No. 3 grounds Tuesday evening in a seven inning game, 7-2. The game was a real battle until the sixth when No. 3 batted in four runs. Each team got a run in the opening frame, Leisuremen No. 1 adding another in the second inning. In the third No. 3 went ahead by getting two hits.

INTERCLASS TRACK MEET PLANNED DURING MAY

It is planned to hold an interclass track meet during the latter part of next month and high school field enthusiasts are already in training under the direction of J. F. Rupp, physical director at the institution. Practices are being held at Fayette field.

Samuel Melnick is captain of the senior class team; Donald Bush of Dawson, heads the juniors; Ernest Hecklinger, also of Dawson, is captain of the sophomores and Joe May is "boss" of the freshmen.

The Pittsburgh Pirates bumped the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday for a 7-4 victory. The Pucers' victory forced the Cards to use five pitchers to stop them. Washington won again yesterday and took the lead in the American league. Pittsburgh is coming nicely on the top rung of the National ladder.

"A SPLENDID HAZARD" — An Allan Dwan production presenting Henry Walball, "the Irving of the screen," whose masterly work is worth the price of admission, is the feature attraction today. Admirers of Napoleon will find much to interest them in this wonderful picture from the well-known novel of the same name by Harold McGrath. For the story deals with an angle of the Little Corporal's life which is not commonly known. Friday and Saturday Lionel Barrymore will be seen in "The Great Adventure," a First National picture.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"ONE MAN IN A MILLION" — Presenting George Boban, supported by Helen Jerome Eddy and other well-known stars, is being shown today. The story of "One Man in a Million" is told in the foreword which declares that now and again there is born a humble, obscure man, who lives in a little town, who is a simple fellow, but who, if practiced at large, would make for a brighter existence. The picture is far from a preachment and contains a score of comedy situations that are real knockouts.

THE ORPHEUM.

"THE SKYWAYMAN" — A drama of life and thrills above the clouds with Lieutenant Locklear in the leading role, is the feature attraction today and will also be shown tomorrow and Saturday. "The Skywayman" is said to be the most spectacular picture held above the clouds were not performed in a bar, but for the good of mankind. NO CAPTAIN FOR MILWAUKEE

Manager of Brewers Confident He Can Run Things Satisfactorily From the Bench.

There will be no captain on the Milwaukee ball club this season. Manager Egan will do the basing both on the field and on the bench.

"There is no need to have a field leader," said Jack. "I guess I can run things from the bench, and when there is anything to tell an umpire I can talk just as fast as the next one." Last year Del Gainer was captain of the club.

LAMPS: 308 ROOKIES

When Connie Mack broke up the famous "world champion Athletics" in 1914 he promised to try to assemble a new team of equal ability. He has been trying ever since to such an extent that 308 players have gone before his eyes up to this year.

Figures show that in 1915 he used 56 players; 61 in 1916; 58 in 1917; 52 in 1918; 60 in 1919, and 41 in 1920.

And he has 35 rookies this year.

FEW ADVANTAGES OF GOLF PROFESSIONAL

Ernie Krueger Tried to Enter as Amateur.

Because He Played Baseball for Living He Was Enabled to Enjoy Privileges of Florida Course Without Paying Fee.

Ernie Krueger, Dodger catcher, spent part of the winter at Deland, Fla. Ernie is a golfer for sport sake and a ball player for pay. Hence, after being properly dunned in the pretty town, he sought out the golf links and paid his greens fees like a gentleman. Ernie can do his 60 or thereabouts on most any course, so when the annual amateur-pro tournament came along he decided to enter as an amateur.

The chairman of the committee looked Ernie over, rubbed his chin and remarked reflectively:

"You are a professional ball player, Mr. Krueger, are you not?"

"Yes, sir," replied Ernie, a bit mystified.

"Well," said the committeeman, "as a professional baseball player you cannot be an amateur golfer. But you can enter as a pro."

"That's odd," parried Krueger. "Then if I were a professional billiard player, I'd be a golf pro, too?"

"You certainly would; there are the rules," asserted the chairman.

"Very well then, I'll enter as a pro," said Ernie. "Oh, by the way," he continued, "I understand that the pros are permitted to use the links without greens charges. Is that in true, I am entitled to a refund for the fees I have paid as an amateur, am I not?"

"Most assuredly," replied the committeeman.

Krueger not only got his refund, but played the course free of charge during the remainder of his stay at Deland.

Baseball Notes

Every ball team has discovered at least one phenom.

Many a sweet ball player turns sour when put in the limelight.

A manager likes to see his players walk the chalk—on a base on balls.

An umpire will tell you that pop bottles are made to drink out of—not to throw.

A successful spitball hurler has a heap of earning power right at his fingertips.

There is many a slip 'tween the record and the manager. And oftentimes it's a blue one.

Every manager hopes his team will be able to rally 'round the flag at the end of the season.

A flock of fans would like to get hold of the sign painter who daubed the "No Game Today" poster.

Ernie Johnson's arm has been stiff this spring and the coast star is just starting to hit his regular form.

A former pitcher in the American league is now an old magnate. His best one these days is an up-shoot.

Leslie Nankemper and Ray Caldwell, Indian stars, have trained at golf. Both have lost weight and many golf balls.

Right-siders look sweetest to Babe Ruth. He picked 58 home runs off of them last season and only 16 off port-

BILL DONOVAN AIMS TO GIVE BUGS BETTER BRAND OF BALL

Quakertown has been sitting in no cellar baseball for several seasons. The Phils have gradually declined from pennant winner under Pat Moran to the bottom of the ladder.

Wild Bill Donovan, former boss of the old New York Highlanders, will try his hand with the destinies of the National league club this season, and the fans are looking to him to get them some kind of a winner. Quakertown isn't crazy for a pennant. The bugs just want something in baseball, not the worst.

"I'm not making any promises or predictions, but I do think that I can mold something out of the material at hand that will not run last," Donovan said.

"The club needs strengthening in several departments. I would like to have some young blood behind the bat and a good peppy infielder. But any one who follows baseball knows that wanting players and getting them are two very different things.

"The trade we made with the Cincinnati Reds strengthened our club, even if it is claimed we got the worst of it. Rixey was a good pitcher, there is no doubt of that, but I think Jimmy Rixey can win just as many games. Neale is a good ball player and will add strength to our outfield."

Robert E. Harrison, a pitcher, has been elected captain of the University of Virginia nine. His home is in Cincinnati.

Connie Mack wrecked a ball team to give youngsters a chance. How differently the White Sox machine was wrecked.

The St. Louis Browns have a miracle man. Phil Todd has been called a Babe Ruth, a Speaker, a Slater and a Mail.

Rogers Hornsby is playing third for the Cardinals these days. The $300,000 beauty is crowning the old hallstone some, too.

A home-run hitter can't be expected to be much as a base stealer. When he gets through running it, he's nothing left to swipe.

CHAPTER VII.

Which He Spends an Hour or Two
on a Roof.

ONE.

Drummond paused for a moment at the door of the sitting room, then with a slight shrug he stepped past Peterson. During the last few days he had grown to loathe this particular room as the private den of the principals of the game. He detected it in his mind with a peculiar horror, a sense of oppression, with the girl, Irma, perfectly absorbed in the sofa, smoking her cigarette, and the man, Lakington, sitting in the armchair, and in a corner, with Henry Lakington's thin, cruel face, and blue, staring eyes.

That night, a different scene confronted him. The girl was not there; her accustomed place on the sofa was occupied by an unkempt-looking man with a ragged beard. At the end of the table was a vacant chair, on the right of which sat Lakington, regarding him with malevolent fury. Along the table on each side there were half a dozen men, and he glanced at their faces. Some were obviously foreigners; some might have been anything from a murderer to a Sunday school teacher. There was one with spectacles and the general appearance of an intimidated rabbit, while his neighbor, helped by a large red scar right across his cheek, and two bloodshot eyes, struck Hugh as being the sort of man with whom one would not share a luncheon basket.

Peterson's voice from just behind him reassured him. "Permit me, gentlemen, to introduce to you Captain Drummond, D. S. O., M. C., the originator of the little entertainment we have just had."

Hugh bowed gravely. "My only regret is that it failed to function," he remarked. "As I told you outside, I'd rather forget your message. In fact," his glance wandered slowly and somewhat pointedly from face to face at the table—"I had no idea it was such a large one."

"So this is the innocent young aviator," said Lakington, "who was shot down in the war?"

"What I cannot understand," said Hugh, "is how you came to be here. You are a demobilized officer, are you not?"

"I am one of those who are fighting for the freedom of the world," he cried harshly. "For the right to live of the proletariat." He flung out his arms wildly. "It is freedom; it is the dawn of the new age."

Hugh looked at him with genuine curiosity. It was the first time he had actually met one of these wild visionaries in the flesh. And then the curiosity was succeeded by a very definite amazement: what had Peterson to do with such a man?

For the moment his own deadly risk was forgotten; a growing excitement filled his mind. Could it be possible that here, at last, was the real object of the game; could it be possible that Peterson was organizing a deliberate plot to try and Bolshevize England? He looked up to find Peterson staring ling him with a faint smile. "It is a little difficult to understand, isn't it, Captain Drummond?" he said, carefully flicking the ash off his cigar. "I told you, and you're in deep water." Then he resumed the contemplation of the papers in front of him.

Hugh half closed his eyes, while a general buzz of conversation broke out round the table. Fragments of conversation struck his ears from time to time. "The intimidated rabbit, with the light of battle in his watery eyes, was declaiming on the glories of the Russian revolution; a bullet-headed man was shouting an inspiring battle cry about the starvation wages and work for all."

"Can it be possible," thought Hugh, "that such as these have the power to control big destinies?" And then, because he had some experience of what one unbalanced brain, whose owner could talk, was capable of achieving; because he knew something about mass psychology, his half contemptuous amusement changed to a bitter foreboding.

"You fool!" he cried suddenly to the Russian; and everyone ceased talking. "You poor d—d boob! You—your new earth! In Petrograd today bread is two pounds four shillings a pound; ten, fifteen pounds a pound. Do you call that freedom?" He gave a contemptuous laugh.

Too surprised to speak, the Russian sat staring at him; and it was Peterson who broke the silence with his suave voice.

"Your distress, I am glad to say, is not likely to be one of long duration. In fact, the time has come for you to retire for the night, my young friend."

He stood up smiling; then he walked over to the bell behind Hugh and rang it. "Dead or mad—I wonder which. Do throw the end of his cigar into the grate as Hugh rose. "While we deliberate down here on various matters of importance we shall be thinking of you upstairs—that is to say, if you get there. I see that Lakington is even now beginning to gloat in pleasant anticipation."

Not a muscle on the soldier's face twitched; not by the hint of a look did he show the keenly watching audience that he realized his danger. Lakington's face was merciless, with his headless look of anticipation, and Hugh stared at him with level eyes for a while before he turned toward the door.

"Then I will say 'Good night,'" he remarked casually. "Is it the same room that I had last time?" "No," said Peterson. "A different one—especially prepared for you. If you get to the top of the stairs a man will show you where it is." He opened the door, and stood there smiling. And at that moment all the lights went out.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN

Mrs. Little Tells How She Suffered and How Finally Cured

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was not able to do my housework and had to lie down most of the time and felt bad in my left side. My monthly periods were irregular, sometimes five or seven months apart and when they did appear would last for two weeks and were very painful. I was sick for about a year and a half and doctor didn't without any improvement."

A neighbor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and the second day after I started taking it I began to feel better and I kept on taking it for seven months. I kept house and performed all my household duties. You can use this fact as you please and I will recommend Vegetable Compound to everyone who suffers as I did."—Mrs. J. S. Little, 3468 Livingston St., Philadelphia, Pa. "How much harder the daily tasks of a woman become when she suffers from such distressing symptoms and weakness as did Mrs. Little. No woman should allow herself to get into such a condition, because such troubles may be speedily overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring American women to health. Use our classified advertisements."

SLIGHT GAIN IN BOTH FURNACE AND MERCHANT COKE PRODUCTION

Results From Decrease in the Number of Ovens in Operation.

FRICK HALTS BANKING

And Blowing Out Program; Independent Furnace Plants Making More Coke; Total of Region About Average Recent Weeks; Merchants Lead.

From The Weekly Courier.

Coke production moved forward last week by an increase of both furnace and merchant production in the proportion of about three by the former to one by the latter. In the case of the furnace plants the gain resulted from the Thompson No. 1 plant of the Redstone Coal & Coke company coming to full production with 320 ovens in blast; and a slight increase in output by the H. C. Frick Coke company, at the plants of which there was a halt in the banking and blowing out program which has been continuing for several weeks. There was a gain of 275 active merchant ovens largely the result of Washington No. 1 plant of the Washington Coal & Coke company having resumed operations. A suspension of two weeks took place at this operation while the mine pumping system was being changed to electric drive. Incidentally opportunity was afforded to bring about an adjustment of the new wage scale. The Sterling plant of the Consolidated Connelville Coke company added 21 to its contingent of producing ovens, making the total 59. Although the augmentation of production was 3,180 tons at furnace plants and 1,180 at merchant, or a total of 4,360, the regional production of 51,580 tons was but a trifle greater than the average of the recent weeks during which the curtailment was the most drastic. While it cannot be construed as indicating a marked change in conditions it is believed it can safely be regarded as marking the halt of the downward trend. At scattered plants throughout the region preparations are being made to increase production slightly to meet a demand that has developed during the past 10 days. One operation is firing up 10 additional ovens this week to take care of orders booked recently. These do not involve any considerable tonnage but they represent the newly developed need for somewhat more coke than has been produced.

There has been some tendency in certain quarters to push coke sales by making the price attractive but the policy does not meet with the approval of the majority of the operators who see danger in any effort to create a market which, in the larger sense, does not exist at this time.

The estimated production of coke during the week ending Saturday, April 23, was 61,580 tons, credited to the two districts as follows: Connelville, 23,580, a decrease of 540 tons; Lower Connelville, 21,990, an increase of 5,200 tons, or a net de-

SLIGHT RECOVERY IN PRODUCTION OF COAL WEEK APR. 16

But Record Was Lowest for Any Period Since the Strike of 1919; Total 25 Per Cent Below Average.

Production of soft coal in the week ended April 16, says the United States Geological Survey, was marked by a slight but distinct recovery. The total output, including lignite and coal coked, is estimated at 4,525,000 net tons, an increase of 416,000 tons over the week preceding, and the largest since the second week of March. In spite of the increase the rate of production remains the lowest since April, 1914, except, of course, for the period of the strike of 1919.

Production during the first 20 working days of the past five years has been as follows, in net tons:

1917 132,022,000
1918 135,521,000
1919 122,349,000
1920 125,852,000
1921 115,258,000

It will be seen that in point of luminous production the year 1921 is not only about 23 per cent behind the active years, 1917, 1918, and 1920, but it is even six per cent behind the year 1919. In that year three factors combined to reduce the demand for coal: a mild winter; an industrial depression; and a heavy accumulation of stored coal carried over from the preceding season. The present year resembles 1919 in that the weather is mild, but the industrial depression is far more serious. As a result, while the carry-over in storage is evidently small.
